Tutoring Experience

With 13 years in the field, I have extensive experience helping students navigate challenging admissions tests, as well as supporting their studies in Economics and Philosophy. My time at Imperial and Cambridge has given me unique insights into the academic rigor required, which I pass on to students preparing for competitive exams.

Beyond ESAT and admissions prep, I work closely with A-Level and GCSE students, strengthening their grasp of Economics fundamentals and honing their critical thinking skills. Many of my students have successfully secured spots at leading universities, and I take pride in guiding them through each stage of their academic journey.
